Dear Dr. Crook.

It is true that I often wish to say things that are unsuited to any but a religious journal.
But, I do not know that I shall ever get time, to write - I think every morning, almost,
of subjects enough for a week's writing - They die and, unborn - But,

I have at heart some papers to young ministers not so much on didactic theology - as on pastoral or the knowledge of ways of reaching men with special kinds of truth.
~~to be~~

But, I fear, - that for a year or so - I shall be too busy.
Yet, I may send you
some articles by

ways - I certainly can not ask a better
channel to the public
than the Methodist, which I esteem more & more highly, as I follow its course.

I am very truly,

A. A. Beecher
